

Redesigning organisations and leaders for the cyber-physical age

8th November, 2017
Level 2 Hilton Sydney
488 George Street,
Sydney NSW 2000

“ The future is not some place we are going, but one we are creating. The paths are not to be found, but made. And the activity of making them changes both the maker and the destination ”

John Schaar, US Historian

An integrated immersion in the technology, commerce and humanity of our future, featuring a stellar global faculty

A revelatory experience of keynotes, panels, interactive workshops and hands-on access to emerging tools and practices

Full-day and half-day options

This unique event provides the latest global insights on the cyber-physical revolution from both international thought leaders and pioneering business executives from admired companies.

In a single day, we bring together expert views on how exponential technologies will fundamentally reshape business and society, with a focus on how the nature of the 'organisation' itself will change, the capabilities most critical for success and what this will mean for organisation design, culture, leadership and development.

This will include the first public sharing of case studies from these new frontiers, revealing the new science of realising human potential.
